Why Apprenticeships are good for business

Statistics show that apprenticeships help employers to grow their own talent, reduce staff turnover and give their business the skills it needs to succeed.

Accountants, solicitors, consultants and other business service and support professionals are well placed to support employers to better understand how apprenticeships can work for their business.

So Cornwall Council and the Skills Hub are offering an apprenticeship event specifically aimed at staff from these businesses.

The workshop will outline recent apprenticeship reform, programmes and funding, top things an employer needs to know about recruiting and managing an apprenticeship as well as information and links to key resources.

Friday 23rd November
9.00am – 1.00pm
St Austell Conference Centre
